This list covers all miracles of Jesus as they are detailed in the four gospels. Each miracle is listed in the chronological order in which it took place in the history of Christ's ministry. By no means is this list representative of all the miracles performed by Jesus—as stated in John 20:30, "And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book."														Performed on... Sabbath = On the sabbath day
There are also a few instances in the gospels mentioning Jesus' miracles within a general summarization of events, but not a specific account (such as Matthew 4:23-24, 9:35, 12:27-28, 13:54, 14:2, Mark 1:39, 6:2, 14, Luke 5:15, 11:19-20, 13:32, 23:8, John 2:23, 3:2, 4:45, 6:2, 7:3, 31, 10:25, 32, 37, 38, 11:37, 47, 12:37, 14:10, 12, 15:24, 20:30, 21:25), and thus it is not counted as a miracle that occurs in a specific place and time.														Type... Nature = Power over nature Healing = Sickness/Infirmity healed Devils = Devils/unclean spirits cast out Resurr. = Raised from the dead
The account in Luke 10 with the 70 disciples healing and casting out devils in Jesus' name was not included, even though the account of the 12 disciples given power in Luke 9 was included. This is because the accounts of the 12 disciples given power has it worded a lot differently. In those accounts (of power given to the 12), the scripture specifically states that Jesus gave them power. That's a supernatural claim that is not explicitly made in the scripture with the account of the 70. And while it probably happened in the same fashion, it has to be assumed, and therefore is not based on any verse of scripture. So to clarify, the miracles of healing, raising the dead, casting out devils is not considered a miracle performed by Jesus (since his disciples performed them), but rather the miracle of Jesus is that He gave his disciples power to do these things.														By... Word = By the authority of Jesus' word Act = By physical act of doing something Virtue = By Jesus' virtue, not His word/act
Events such as the transfiguration and resurrection are also not included for several reasons. The transfiguration in Matthew 17:1-8, Mark 9:2-8, Luke 9:28-36 does not say anywhere whether it was Jesus or the Father or the Holy Ghost performing anything. It is rather described as "he was transfigured..." which doesn't give us any certainty of who exactly "did" this thing. While we can all reasonably agree that Jesus is God and played a role in it, we are once again standing on assumptions rather than scripture itself. When we let the scriptures have all the authority, we must kneel to the fact that God's word is silent on this, and therefore we cannot with 100% certainty claim it to be something triggered by an act or command of Jesus.
The resurrection was not included for the same reason as the above two: the scriptures are simply silent and do not give a detailed account of the actual resurrection event.
